

The Sunday Telegraph visited Dorthill Nature Reserve on 21st May. Joe Shute wrote the article which was published the week after. In addition we had a PhD student who showed us how to take D.N.A. swabs from toads. After the visit, we worked on producing an information sheet to show the life cycle of an amphibian of our choice.